Over 200 Sign Up As Blood Donors Meeting Quota But More Are Needed

Late Registrants Will Fill In for Those Unable to Keep Appointments

It isn't going to be said that Sierra Madreans let their fighting men down through failure to contribute their quota of blood to be sent to the battlefronts. Two hundred and four of them had signed as blood donors last night and received appointments for their contributions when the Red Cross blood bank arrives at the Woman's Clubhouse for its fifth visit, next Tuesday morning, March 30.

Though the required number of persons have volunteered to meet the quota of 200, Mrs. May deWright, chairman of the blood donors registration committee, says she hopes this will not discourage others from signing up as there will undoubtedly be some persons who will find it impossible to keep their appointments for one reason or another and those who sign up between now and Tuesday morning will fill in the gaps. Those signing up now and not called Tuesday will be given preferred appointments when the blood bank returns in June.

In addition to nurses and other personnel that will accompany the blood bank here a number of local women have volunteered for various services during its visit.

Helen Hutton and Bess Steinberger who will be in charge of reception. Mmes. Lorraine Gardner, Jean Kearney, Frances Davis and Margaret O'Donnell will handle registration, and Mmes. Ford Blakeman, Rebecca Colligan, R. H. McCullagh, Edward Ward and Lelia Embree will compose the first aid group. Mrs. Lelia Roberts will be the nurse in charge of the Motor Corps, assisted by Mmes. Florence Lyon, J. C. Rogers, Mattie Spencer, Myrtle Weese and Alice Freeman.

Women who have volunteered their services at the blood bank canteen are Mrs. Leona Woehler, chairman; Mrs. Gertrude Clougherty; Mrs. Freda Woehler, Mrs. Nina Leshner, Mrs. Catherine Kern, Mrs. Gladys Merriman, Mrs. Frances Brain, Mrs. Ethel Selk and Miss Jean Woodward.

The Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park Citrus Ass'n. is donating fresh oranges for juice to be given the blood donors.

Those who have registered as donors are:

8:40—Mrs. Janet Wood, Dr. J. S. Miller, Miss Marian Johnson, Felecity McCroskey, Mrs. Margaret Pierce, Everett Hitchcock, Roger Wood, Robert E. Wright, Howell White, Miss Lalla Fagge, Don Wells, Milton Goldberg, Sol Hurwit, Ben Soinit, Mrs. Ray Nelson, Thomas Moon, Herbert Davidson, Mrs. Florence H. Peterson.

9:00—Mrs. Emma Chambers, Mrs. Mary Perkins, Mrs. Billie Matzinger, Rudolph Hartman, Dr. Guthrie Price, Mrs. Virginia Price, Mercer Duff, James A. Gadd, Dorothy Moore, Mrs. E. C. Frank, David Brown, Harry Lange, Donald Damon, Mrs. Margaret Senour.

Home Nursing Class Being Organized By the Red Cross

A Red Cross home nursing class now being organized will hold its first session at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 2, in the Congregational Church. Thereafter the class will meet each Tuesday evening at 7 and Friday afternoon at 2, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Josephine E. Marr who has been appointed chairman of this Red Cross activity. Instruction will be given by Mrs. Augusta Coats, a well qualified registered nurse who served with the Army in France during World War I.

With not nearly enough nurses available to meet ordinary peace time home requirements in Sierra Madre there have been many requests for home nursing instruction and it is expected the class will be a large one. Those interested are asked to call Red Cross headquarters or Mrs. Marr at Custer 5.6289.

Former Prominent Citrus Grower Here Called by Death

Thomas F. Yerxa of 173 San Gabriel court, aged 68 years, former prominent citrus grower here, died Monday in a Los Angeles hospital. He had been in ill health for ten years. He came to Sierra Madre 22 years ago from Minneapolis, Minn., where he had been engaged in the grocery business and was active in Masonic affairs. Until his retirement four years ago he operated the Bonita Vista ranch on South Baldwin Avenue, established in 1910 by his father, Thomas E. Yerxa, the orange grove of which was for years considered one of the finest and most productive in the citrus belt.

Mr. Yerxa is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Yerxa; two sons, Thomas F. Jr., of Los Angeles and Harold E. Yerxa of this city; a daughter, Mrs. Alice Y. Harkness of Sierra Madre; three brothers, Dr. Charles W. Yerxa of Arcadia, Herbert R. Yerxa of Santa Cruz and Ernest L. Yerxa of Pasadena; two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Duff and Mrs. Mabel Roseberry of Los Angeles, and five grandchildren.

Masonic rites will be conducted at Grant Chapel today, March 25 at 2 p.m. Interment will be held at Rosedale Cemetery in Los Angeles.

Red Cross Nears Goal in Its Campaign To Raise $7,500 Fund

By Dr. A. O. Pritchard

A long pull, a strong pull and a pull together will put our Red Cross campaign over the top this week. If each one will give, however small the sum, to the friend who calls at the door, or buy a ticket for the concert at the school on Saturday night, so generously given 100 per cent by the young people, he will be giving an answer to the largest appeal ever made to Sierra Madre at any time.

Tuesday morning the fund stood at $7,115.35. This is a splendid showing, but Claremont, La Verne and Antelope Valley have gone over the top already and Pasadena, according to late reports, has over 95 per cent out of its huge quota of $282,000.

Sierra Madre stands fifth in the list of Los Angeles County Chapters. Those already mentioned are the only ones to surpass us while Pomona, Monrovia and Whittier are next in order. Reports from San Francisco say Stockton was the first major city of California to go over the top, but the state of Washington with 42 per cent leads California with 25 per cent of its total.

It is true San Francisco and Los Angeles began late and no doubt their figures have already increased rapidly, but aside from this California has only about one half of its quota.

Let Sierra Madre cross the goal line this week. Report of the Sierra Madre campaign as of March 22: National treasury $4,000, local treasury, $3,500; total $7,500.

Advisor of China's Leader to Speak Here on Sunday

Dr. George K. Shepherd, personal friend and advisor of Generalissimo and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, will give an interesting talk to laymen on the subject, "The political future of China and the U.S.," at the Congregational Church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Dr. Shepherd has been a missionary in China for many years and was released to come back home to tell about the New Life Movement and the effect it is having on the outlook of China's people.

CITY COULD SELL OR GIVE AWAY MILLIONS OF GALLONS OF PURE WATER ESCAPING TO THE SEA

Ask Removal Of Casualty Station

The Parent-Teacher Association has petitioned the Civilian Council of Defense for removal of the city's central casualty station from the grammar school building and requested a hearing on the subject as soon as possible as a result of the recent daylight air raid alarm.

According to members of the Association it is necessary to evacuate the entire wing of the building in which the station is located during raid alarms. On the occasion of the only daylight alert this meant removal of the kindergarten and first grade pupils to a cloak room designated as their shelter in another part of the building. Herding of more than 50 very small children into such limited space is most undesirable at any time, the association officers believe, and would be particularly so during a raid in which the youngsters would undoubtedly become hysterical and many of them made ill, though during the alert they were very calm and unafraid.

Location of the station in the school building is bad in principle, too, they believe, since scenes such as those that would inevitably occur about such a place during a raid would have a terrifying effect upon children. The association believes much more suitable quarters could and should be found elsewhere.

Sierra Madre could sell to, lend or give a lot of its neighbors lots of pure, crystal clear water from its mountain tunnels now and for weeks to come as a result of the recent storms. As it is, millions of gallons of it are racing down the Little Santa Anita channel every day to the sea. But by no means all of it is escaping. As much of it as can possibly be handled is going directly into the water distribution system, obviating the necessity of pumping from the wells. That saves pumping costs. What the system cannot absorb is being diverted over the basins in the spreading grounds between Grand View avenue and E. Sierra Madre blvd. where, because of the complete lack of sand and silt, it is percolating rapidly into the underground basin for future use.

The measured daily flow out of the east and west tunnels has been 3,300,000 gallons a day for some time now. Another million and half gallons are escaping over the 12-inch pipes from the tunnels because they are not large enough to carry it and it goes crashing — not trickling — down the Santa Anita channel.

As a result of all this, water levels in the city's wells have been raising at about two feet a day during the last few days. They have gone up 26 feet since late January, from 174 feet below the surface to 148 feet.

Rainfall Total Is Still Going Up

Light rains last Thursday and Sunday left approximately half an inch of rain here, bringing the seasonal total at the city water plant to 36.86 inches. At the Sierra Madre dam it was approximately 7 inches higher.

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN IN BLOCK WARDEN ORGANIZATIONS ARE NOW READY TO FUNCTION

The Block Leaders Organization of Sierra Madre's Civilian Defense Council, consisting of more than a hundred women, was completed at a meeting of those who have agreed to serve in this important capacity held in the city hall on Friday and is now ready to function in any emergency.

Importance of this branch of the civilian defense has been emphasized by President Roosevelt and leaders of the National Defense organization and it is growing rapidly throughout the country, particularly in California.

Any woman pledging herself to carry on enthusiastically and efficiently in this endeavor may rightfully feel that she is evidencing her patriotism in the most substantial manner. Dr. W. B. Heagerty, Chief of Emergency Medical Service of the Civilian Council of Defense, told Friday's meeting. Introduced by Mrs. W. R. Dedrick, Jr., who has organized the unit, he outlined duties of the block leaders and gave them the location and explained the function of the first aid and casualty stations. Mrs. Bertha Thompson was present to organize first aid classes for those who have not had this training, which is necessary to qualify block wardens.

Duties of the wardens are listed under 11 headings, as follows:

1. Have name, address, phone number of each child on her street. Also alternate address and phone number, information concerning inoculations. She will note working parents on her street, place of occupation and if parents have arranged for adequate care of minor children.
2. Have 24 hour food supply on hand. (This is to be collected from the homes in the block.) The following are a few suggestions: canned milk, cheese (in jars), canned vegetables, (peas, beans, green beans, corn, sauerkraut, tomatoes, tomato juice), dried fruits and fruit juices, dried prunes, apricots or raisins, prepared cereals, crackers (Whole wheat), chocolate syrup or can of cocoa, sugar, peanut butter, jam or jelly.

3. Have complete first-aid kit in readily accessible place. Block Mother should also have knowledge of first aid.

4. Have a few simple games in mind for amusement of the children.

5. Have a definite black-out room according to instructions from the defense council.

6. Have fire-fighting equipment (sand, shovel, hose, spray, heavy gloves).

7. If for any reason you will not be able to be at home, or due to illness will not be able to serve in the capacity of block mother, please notify your alternate so that she may be on hand.

8. Check identification tags of children frequently. Make definite attempt to know the children in your block.

9. Display "Block Mother sign." 10. Know where your air raid warden lives, and in case of air raid emergency, contact him.

11. All children in block are to be instructed to go to the designated house in case of air raid when there is no one in their own homes to care for them.

The nine voting precincts of Sierra Madre have been taken as the basis for the block warden organization. In each precinct there is a captain and in each block one or more block mothers. The list of volunteers will have been completed in time for publication in next week's issue of the NEWS.

Al Myers Assigned To Navy Job At the San Diego Base

Fellow employees in the electrical engineering department at the Vega airplane factory suspended operations for a few minutes Saturday evening to say "good-bye and good luck" to Al S. Myers, Sierra Madre's former city business manager and electrical engineer, who was leaving to assume an important position at the Naval Air Base at San Diego. Myers passed the Navy's civil service examination with flying colors recently and has been appointed an airplane electrician.

WITH SIERRA MADRE BOYS IN SERVICE

Captain Lee M. Evans of the U. S. Army Medical Corps, is home, spending a short furlough with his family, Mrs. Evans and their two sons, at 450 North Baldwin ave. He is stationed at Fresno, Calif.

Word has come from the commanding officer at the army's Sheppard Air Field at Wichita Falls, Texas, that Sellwyn Myers, son of former city business manager and Mrs. Al S. Myers, is giving an excellent account of himself there and that much may be expected from him.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Penn of 119 North Auburn Ave., recently received news of their son, Robert W. Penn, Navy Radioman 3-c. He is well, enjoying Navy life and sends best regards to all of his friends here.

Val Miller of 144 San Gabriel St., Navy enlistee has been given the rank of Chief Petty Officer in the Shore Patrol and is now at the training station in San Diego.

He has been given a leave of absence from the staff of the Temple City Sheriff's sub-station, having also served on the staff of the San Dimas Sheriff's Station.

Mr. Miller, a native of New York, served with the Army in World War I, and came to California 23 years ago.

Mr. Miller's brothers, Howard and Leslie, are also in the Navy and his son Donald is stationed at Malibu with the U.S. Coast Guard.

His wife, Mrs. Catherine Miller, will remain at the family home in Sierra Madre. She was visited over the weekend by her son, Don, who was home on leave.

Pvt. Everet Gerty, has been transferred from Camp Robinson in Arkansas to Fort Meade, Mo. according to a letter received this week by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gerty of 20 West Grand View Ave.

"It is certainly good to get back to Sierra Madre—there's no place like it," announced Pvt. John Kennedy on his return from Camp Robinson, Ark., last week. He has spent much of his time since joining the Army late in December at the camp hospital where he underwent an operation and was given leave to come home to recuperate. Four Sierra Madreans who were assigned to Camp Robinson with John completed their basic training there and were sent to other cantonments to complete their preparation for active duty. They are Everet Gerty, Edward Spoelstra, "Joby" Kiggins and Edward Hartwell. When he has regained his strength John, husband of the former Dorothy Petzel and son of William Kennedy, former superintendent of the Barlow estate here, will return to Robinson to complete his basic. He says all the Sierra Madreans are well, enthusiastic about Army life, and anxious for word from the home-town.

Pvt. Hubert Tuttle has sent word to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tuttle of 152 East Laurel ave., that he has been sent to Camp Haan from the Arlington Reception Center. He is with Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft group.

Mrs. Mary Kiggins of 51 Esperanza ave., has been informed that her son, Pvt. Joby Kiggins, has been transferred from Camp Robinson in Arkansas to Fort Meade, in Maryland.

Air Cadet A. C. (Junior) Young is home for several days visiting his mother, Mrs. A. R. Koch of 431 Ramona ave. He will soon graduate with an advanced class from the Army Air Corps Training Center at Yuma, Ariz.

Housewives Face Big Job As High Point Values Set for Fats, Meats

Concert Will Climax Red Cross Drive

Capacity Audience Expected to Hear Local Young Artists Saturday

The Red Cross benefit concert at the grammar school Saturday night, March 27th, bids fair to be a fitting wind up to the local Red Cross campaign. The tickets are in the hands of local organizations whose workers are interested in filling the auditorium to capacity.

The concert itself gives townspeople an opportunity to show appreciation of the young musicians who have so generously given of their time and talent for the Red Cross. Arrangements are underway for them to entertain the boys at the Army hospital here also and such patriotic efforts should be encouraged.

Gustave Rihard who will accompany the soloists will also contribute several piano numbers. Bette Kelly will be remembered for her pleasing recitals, the last with Glen Burris at the Women's Club being specially enjoyable. But it will be Charline Stansbury who will be singing with all her heart on Saturday night, for her husband is now in the armed forces and she knows how vital the Red Cross is to them. Those who have not heard her sing recently will enjoy the development she is making in her study with Mrs. Grace McCarthy.

Mrs. McCarthy has charge of arrangements and Mrs. H. C. Lieben of tickets. Ushers will be Misses Marie Schlitz, Rita Bauman and Floretta Keith Susie Griffin and Connie Best will serve as page girls.

Patrons of the concert include Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis, Mayor and Mrs. Thomas M. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lange, Rev. and Mrs. Frederic Grootsema, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. R. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Jones, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Heagerty, Dean and Mrs. A. G. H. Bode, Dr. Arthur O. Pritchard and Miss Martha Pritchard.

Attendance At the Fete Surprises

Thousands Ride Buses and Trolley Cars to See Great Wistaria in Bloom

Officers of the Woman's Club who are conducting this year's Wistaria Fete are convinced that people don't mind riding the trolley cars and walking the half mile up Lima street or Auburn when there is something inspiringly beautiful as the great old vine to be seen. They have been most agreeably surprised at the attendance so far. Of course it has been nothing like as great as in the early days of past Fetes when capacity of the free parking lots was taxed, but has greatly exceeded expectations and there has been a generous sprinkling of cars with "A" stickers.

Notwithstanding threatening weather on Saturday, the opening day, more than 500 people passed through the gates while on Sunday, when there was a sprinkle of rain, there were more than a thousand admissions. Average daily attendance so far this week has been 200. No effort is being made to serve the visitors elaborate meals, but light lunches of non-rationed foods are being served in the pergola.

Bright sunshine and balmy weather of the last few days have brought the vine to near peak of its bloom, though the many thousands of young buds continuing to force their way through the miles of runners assure that it will be a thing of beauty for several weeks, barring a spell of hot weather, and tentative plans are being made for an interdenominational Easter service under the lavender canopy.

Steaks, Chops, Butter and Cheese Cut Deep Into Family Allowances

Meat ration points announced yesterday by OPA impressed householders here that careful study of point values and meal planning will be required to properly nourish the average family from here on. Each person is restricted to 16 meat points a week and these cover all meats including those in cans, butter and all other edible fats and oils including oleomargarine, canned fish and cheese.

As rationing of these essentials becomes effective at midnight Sunday the freeze comes off butter and other fats and oils, sale of which has been banned since Monday. But the only important foods that will not be rationed are milk, bread, cereals, fresh and frozen fish, poultry, fresh fruit and vegetables, jellies, jams and preserves and members of the paste family, including macaroni, spaghetti, nodules, etc.

Steaks, chops and the meat cuts most in demand and most easily prepared, have the highest point values, averaging 8 for the pound. Use of the coarser, more flavorful cuts is encouraged by lower point values. Values will change, OPA says, according to the demand for various kinds of meat as rationing progresses and April values may be radically changed in May or June. Dried beef, sliced, in the piece or in jars is tops in ration value, requiring 12 points to the pound. Pig's ears, pig's feet and bacon rind are at the bottom, requiring one point a pound.

Butter and cheese rate with beefsteaks, calling for 8 points per pound, margarine and lard for 5. Sliced ham calls for 11 points the pound and sliced bacon for 8. Fresh and smoked sausages including wieners, bologna, etc., call for 7 points, the hard salami varieties for 9 points and scrapple, head cheese and tamales for only 4.

Housewives were quick to see that leg of lamb requires one point less than the wanted beef cuts and because there is little bone and waste in this butchers predicted yesterday the point value would be upped in a month or two as a result of the demand.

Just as use of the coarser beef cuts is encouraged meats with bones have a lower point value than those without, spare ribs calling for only 4 points while the boneless pork tenderloin calls for 10. Though hamburgers may not be what they used to be and are likely to become even less desirable than now their ration value is fixed at 5 point the pound.

Housewives are encouraged by a report from Washington that high point values placed on canned fruits and juices and on many canned vegetables have had the effect of practically freezing them on the shelves of dealers as a result of which there will be a downward revision on these items in April and subsequent months, as has been the case with dried fruits, point values on which were so high as to practically halt the sale of raisins, prunes and other fruits which cannot be carried over through protracted hot weather. Their point values have been cut down to get them moving, along with dried beans, peas and lentils.

Another bit of good news for housewives is that they will not be required to use all 16 of their meat points per person each week during April. They may allow a few of the coupons of smaller denominations to ride each week and splurge towards the month end, but April stamps will not be valid in May.

As a result of meat rationing service at meat counters will be greatly slowed up and butchers and housewives alike see plenty of arguments ahead between buyer and seller. The butcher must cut his meats precisely for the ration stamps he is to receive and it will require more time. He is called upon by OPA to trim bone and fat from his meat cuts "reasonably", and the housewife having to get every last possible ounce of edible food from the allowable meat is likely not always to agree with the meat cutter about what is "reasonable". There will be lots of counter debates about this and they won't expedite service.

But life is short, we are at war and there is little sense in short tempers on either side of the counter—in butcher shops or elsewhere.

BETTY LOU LACY WEDS A SAILORMAN

One of the most charming weddings of the month was that of Miss Betty Lou Lacy, daughter of Mrs. Harry H. Lacy of 530 West Laurel Ave., and C. J. List, U.S. Navy, son of Mrs. John List of Pasadena, solemnized in the Bethany Church at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

Rev. S. R. Sheriff officiated at the double ring ceremony before several hundred guests in a church filled with flowers. Mrs. K. D. Lacy, aunt of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly." Preceding the bridal party were flower girl and page boy, Betty Jo Maule, and Donnie Matthews.

Bridesmaids leading the procession were Miss Jean Weekes, Miss Muriel Fitchett, and Miss Dorothy Moote. The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Lamb of San Marino.

As Mrs. Homer Robinson played traditional wedding music, the bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Gordon Lacy. She wore a Colonial type gown of white bridal satin, with a slight train and fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Mrs. Lacy, mother of the bride, wore a dusty rose sheer afternoon frock and Mrs. List, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in brown net over pale blue crepe. Gerald Spaulding of Pasadena served Mr. List as best man. Ushers were Stan- ton Irvine of this city, Malcolm Wallace of Monrovia and James Foster of Whittier.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held in the church annex. Friends assisting in serving at the bridal table were Mrs. John Busch, Mrs. Frank Butler, Miss Mary Elizabeth Foster, Miss Mary Sheriff and Miss Betty Penn.

The young couple are now driving to Corpus Christi, Texas, where Mr. List will be stationed. The bride and groom are both graduates of the Pasadena Junior College. Mr. List is a graduate of the Bible Institute in Los Angeles.

Home Canning May Be Slowed Up By Lack of Sugar Supply

In an effort to encourage home canning of fruits and vegetables this year OPA has announced that there will be a sufficient supply of metal jar tops and rubber rings, but indicates the possibility that the home canning program may be put on crutches by an uncertain sugar supply. It is indicated that ration coupons may be required for canning sugar, whereas last year house-holders were permitted the necessary sugar without use of coupons according to the amount of fruit to be canned, with certain limitations. The matter is under consideration and the final decision is up to Price Administrator Brown.

But in preparation for the home canning season the Pasadena school district is conducting classes dealing with the subject. John A. Sexton, superintendent of schools reports 650 persons have already enrolled in Victory Garden classes, who will later receive instruction about home canning and preserving. Persons desiring further information about these classes should call Sy-3-5111.

low surface to 148 feet. It is expected that a good deal of the water in the ground now will have percolated into the underground basin by early May and the levels will be at peak or about 119 feet. They have reached that point only once since 1928. That was in May following the big storm of that year. Water Superintendent Joe Swanson and the city's water engineers believe that is the maximum possible because at that point water in the underground basin flows over the subterranean dam. Percolation will continue for several months.

At times during the last 15 years the levels have dropped so low as to give considerable concern, going to 201 feet in August 1931. High and low levels in the wells since 1928 are shown in the following table prepared by Mr. Swanson from city records:

Year	High	Low
1928 March	144.6	Sept. 179.
1929 April	158.	Sept. 189.
1930 Feb.	171.	Nov. 190.
1931 April	166.	Aug. 201.
1932 March	172.	Aug. 194.
1933 March	175.	Oct. 197.
1934 March	175.	Oct. 199.
1935 May	163.	Aug. 179.
1936 April	157.	Oct. 185.
1937 April	139.	Sept. 169.
1938 May	119.	Sept. 159.
1939 Feb.	136.	Sept. 179.
1940 April	150.	Oct. 189.
1941 May	127.	Sept. 157.
1942 March	138.	Sept. 184.

Kitchen Front Dispatches

by Virginia Porter
Nutrition Committee

In face of a growing list of shortages, it's good news to learn of one group of foodstuffs which is very unlikely to fail us. . . . meaning cereals. We've plenty of wheat and corn and oats and rye.

Most of the cereals in our markets today stem from wheat, corn and oats, and from rye and barley to a lesser degree. The largest share of the vitamins and minerals in the cereal grains is concentrated in the bran layers just below the husk and in the germ. In the process of manufacture of some cereals the entire or whole grain can be used.

In others the process employed necessitates the removal of the branny parts and the germ. To bring these cereals back to whole grain levels, farsighted manufacturers add equivalent vitamins and minerals. These are designated, according to a decision given by the National Research Council, as "restored cereals."

Since the restoration of the prepared cereals takes place after processing, and the amounts of replaced thiamin, niacin and iron are adjusted at that time, the processing which the grain undergoes in the manufacture does not affect the resulting values of the nutrients. However, it is essential that the nutrition-minded shopper examine the labels on the cereals which she purchases in order to be certain the one she selects is a whole grain or "restored cereal."

Cereals, like flour, are susceptible to foreign flavors and odors. It is good housekeeping to make sure that cereals are not stored in close association with soaps, disinfectants, cleaning fluids, or strong flavored foods like onions, and the packages should be kept as tightly covered as possible to keep them fresh.

Whole grain or "restored cereals" and milk along with a dish of fruit or a glass of juice form the backbone of an adequate breakfast or lunch, but they have further important roles to play in stretching our dwindling store of meat.

The various prepared breakfast cereal flakes or oatmeal add food value and flavor to meat loaves and patties. Cornmeal made into taste-tempting tamales will tease a small amount of ground meat into an ample main dish. Try drop dumplings with the next meat stew, or cornbread shortcake with Chili. Cereal custards and puddings, flaky crisp cookies and waffles will add satisfaction to mealtime eating, and they add essential food nutrients, too. Coffee cakes, rolls and muffins with a touch of jam or jelly go awfully well, and so do griddle cakes glistening with syrup or marmalade, even if butter is as scarce as hen's teeth. When we were youngsters, plain fried cornmeal mush with syrup or milk was often our choice for supper.

Sometimes mother added scraps of left-over meat before she molded the cereal, and then it turned out to be a kind of scrap-ple when fried to a golden brown along with some apple slices. Pork sausage, cooked and drained, could be used instead of the meat bits. Then dribble honey over the hot scrapple. Sounds good, doesn't it? You'll think of countless more delectables once you've boarded the cereal band wagon.

No Worry About Your Milk Supply

To Each Regular Patron of Crown City Dairy Company

If any worrying is necessary, we will do it for you.

As long as any Dairy delivers milk, your Crown City Dairy Company will be delivering it to you—and to its other regular patrons.

Fortunately, for the nutritional requirements now recognized by governmental officials as primarily essential to individual health needs, you need not use milk sparingly, as we are making it our daily job to see that you are adequately supplied.

Right now, for example, we have an assured supply sufficient to be able to serve even more patrons—despite a tremendous gain in patronage. So, if any of your friends need milk regularly (provided they live in the territory we serve), you can assure them that they can obtain plenty of milk and milk products from us. And we can supply them without cutting down your orders.

Later on, should milk be rationed by the Government, obviously all milk consumers would be placed on the same distributional basis. But, if milk and its products are not rationed, you can depend on an adequate supply of high quality from our Dairy.

The ever-spreading interest in "Nutritional Values" has now focused the attention of nutritional experts on the essential mineral values contained in fluid milk—especially the high calcium and phosphorus content. For this single reason, milk continues to be placed at the top of all nutritional diet lists. Authorities also are beginning to heed the fact that milk and its calcium-phosphorus-containing by-products are essential to the well-being of the adult as of the child.

Fluid sweet milk—freshly churned buttermilk—standard sweet cream—rich Half-and-Half (for coffee and cereals)—and tasty cottage cheese; all (with the exception of cream) carry a high calcium-phosphorus deposit, and all are now obtainable thru us in ample abundance. For your health's sake, these milk products should be used regularly.

Please accept our sincere thanks for your splendid co-operation with our routemen. The spirit with which you have accepted imposed government regulations is a continuous inspiration to our entire organization to keep on battling in your behalf.

THE SITUATION: Many War Trains delayed for lack of Brakemen!

THE REMEDY: Suspend California's stringent "Full Crew Law" during the War Emergency.

The railroads are carrying a tremendous load of war freight as well as troops and their equipment. This freight must be moved quickly, efficiently and without delay, for this is vital to the war effort. This freight includes equipment for our armed forces, materials for shipyards, airplane factories and other plants whose products are needed to win the war.

Like most other industries the railroads are short of manpower, and unfortunately many freight trains were delayed in California last year for lack of brakemen.

As an example of delays, one California railroad alone had 226 trains delayed from 15 minutes to 22 hours during a ten day period in October, for lack of brakemen.

Other roads had similar difficulties in meeting their wartime responsibility. As our war effort is increased, particularly on the West Coast, the railroads will have more and more passengers and freight to carry. 1943 will exceed 1942 in train movements.

An important factor in the shortage of brakemen in California is the California "Full Crew Law," which specifies the number of brakemen on trains according to their length and the grades on which the trains operate.

There are only 14 states out of the 48 which have "Full Crew Laws" and California's law is the most restrictive, burdensome and stringent of them all. Many freight trains carry double the number of brakemen required or used in any other State of the Union.

The California railroads, therefore, are asking the California legislature to suspend the provisions of the law requiring more than two brakemen per train. They ask this suspension for the period of the war emergency only.

The California "Full Crew Law" was passed way back in 1911 and the California railroads contend that there are no reasons now for the excessive number of brakemen required by the California law. And brakemen will still have plenty of employment, for during the war emergency there will be no necessity to "make work" for any class of railroad employees, including brakemen.

You know the importance of railroad freight transportation in the war effort. You have proved this by a considerate and understanding attitude when passenger trains have been delayed by freight traffic. We are therefore issuing this frank statement in order that you may know our problem, what we are asking of the legislature, and why.

"Make production" and not "make work" legislation is our country's need now.

SANTA FE • SOUTHERN PACIFIC
UNION PACIFIC • WESTERN PACIFIC

THIS IS IN ANSWER TO THE 'SURPRISING PUBLIC STATEMENT OF MARCH 15, 1943, BY SOME RAILROAD UNIONS

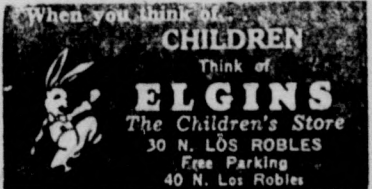

HEAVY INCREASE IN TRAFFIC during the past year, with only a small amount of additional equipment, has left Pacific Electric Railway, like other public carriers, with a mighty big pair of shoes to fill in handling Wartime Transportation Demands.

Maximum use of available equipment, both as to hours of service and loading standards, is becoming increasingly necessary with each passing month. To speed the day of final victory, public transportation carriers must continue to efficiently carry the increasing volume of essential traffic.

YOU CAN HELP KEEP 'EM ROLLING BY:

1. Planning your essential trips between 10:00 A.M. and 3:00 P.M. or after 7:00 P.M., whenever possible.
2. Having ticket or exact change ready when boarding car or coach.
3. Moving promptly away from entrance; avoiding blocking the door.
4. Signaling and moving to exit well in advance of reaching your destination.

Santa Fe gives right-of-way to Victory Gardens

Now Santa Fe employees do war work in their hours off duty too! They're grabbing spades and tilling fertile stretches near their homes, along their railroad's 13,199 miles of right-of-way. They're raising fresh, vitamin-packed vegetables their nation needs to win a war.

Santa Fe—all out to win—gives right-of-way to troops and victory-winning freight . . . moving millions of men, and tens of millions of tons of vital food, raw materials and finished products—swiftly and surely to where they're needed now.

Santa Fe locomotives, cars, tracks and men are all working in their country's service. And now the Santa Fe right-of-way itself steps into victory uniform!

And Santa Fe people—already working hard, and buying war bonds—like this Victory Garden scheme—this chance to do one more thing for victory!

Santa Fe goes all the way, for the U.S.A.!

ANOTHER GUESS

To our service men stationed at lonely outposts over the globe, where any form of entertainment is at a premium, a good book is worth its weight in gold. But be sure the books you donate for our fighting men are good books. A too-large percentage of the volumes offered have come out of many years' hiding in the basement or attic—old doctor books, outmoded scientific tomes, children's books. If you think our boys on Guadalcanal will appreciate receiving a copy of the Rover Boys, or a soldier in Iceland will whoop for joy when he is handed a volume entitled, "Barbara Sets Out for Boarding School," you have another guess coming. More than 11 million books were donated by the public in the 1942 Victory Book Campaign, and about half of these, after sorting for condition and for subject matter were considered suitable for distribution to our fighting men.

WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT?

The sorry little news item last week to the effect that an Indiana grocer had shot—and killed—a customer who wanted some butter, is a sign of the times! But definitely this is not a buyer's market! The customer no longer is "always right"! But he is being subjected to what you might call counter attacks in ways that would be humorous if they didn't end in shootings. Clerks and customers alike are harassed now. The clerk sees the "ozens" waiting to be served, and grows hot and bothered. His former inhibitions have gone because he knows jobs are plentiful and his services in demand. The customers on the other side of the counter come in hungry, tired from a long day's work in some war plant, and then stand waiting endlessly for service and food.

Everyone will be better served if no one takes advantage of this sudden reversal of old standpoints. In some metropolitan shops, a lecture from the clerk on the wickedness of your purpose now accompanies every purchase you make. You get to feeling that only a criminal impulse could have led you to want to buy a new toothbrush! Yes, jobs are plentiful, and clerks hard to get, and the customer can afford to forego cheerfully many an old prerogative. But clerks need not make war necessities the subject for penny lectures, frowns, nor rude rebuffs. War is here. Our cause is a common one—common to both seller and buyer—and everyone carries more burdens than he has ever known before.

One day, the war will be over and life will resume some semblance of its normal standards of courtesy on both sides of the counter. Then the customer will remember where he received sympathetic and courteous service and he will return there with his patronage. The buyer isn't a criminal for trying to get something he needs. The seller isn't a criminal because he's human and enjoying his opportunity. So what's all the shooting about?

Tell His Friends About Your Man In the Service

These paragraphs will probably cause hometown associates to write him and men in the armed services crave letters from home above all things.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

This week we've been reading "The House in the Rain Forest" (non-fiction) by a young woman named Charis Crockett, an anthropologist out of Radcliffe. It's a book not long off the press and is a recent acquisition of our excellent Public Library—a book that might interest anyone, any time; as good as Robinson Crusoe in its way, that well written and somewhat similar in other respects. But of particular interest just now because the "Rain Forest" of the title happens to be down there in New Guinea, so close to American hearts this present hour, where Charis Crockett, blonde and slender, but recently out of college and just married, went with her scientist husband to set up housekeeping among some of the most primitive, savage, and little known cannibals still left in the world. And there learned—what do you suppose?—to understand them, sympathize with them, like them, love them even a little perhaps. Anyway, there was an ache in her heart when she had to leave them.

Without sentimentality, mind you. Just the best sort of reporting, factual and forthright, human and not, with all the humor and terror that comes from humanity honestly presented, white or black. And this human, it was black. Yet recalling ever again, while text and pictures wove a mental and spiritual web of New Guinea about us, a certain other New Guinea picture we'd seen; in a recent copy of Life—that one of the tall, black native, fuzzy-headed and mostly naked, leading to safety one of our allied soldiers, blinded in battle, through the dense New Guinea jungle; leading him with all the simple fidelity and unconscious dignity of a "seeing dog" leading his blind master through dangerous ways. And so leading us too, incidentally, through a jungle of speculation.

A jungle through which the world itself has been stumbling, blind and wounded, it seemed to us. Figuratively, of course. But a jungle, all right, dangerous as any to the soul as well as the body of our world. Meaning, this old jungle called the Color Problem—Color and Race. Dangerous now as never before. With most of "the best people" still trying to ignore it. A taint of its Jim Crow malaria, sometimes faint but mostly overpowering, polluting even our churches, infecting all our democracy, putting a secret virus into the private lives of each of us; big news, vital news, yet too dirty apparently for our lily-white press. It took the First World War to strip this sort of taboo from what was called "Social Disease." Will one of the compensations of this present War be freedom from the race and color taboo?

Somewhere in her book Charis Crockett makes a casual reference to what life in the Rain Forest had been doing to her—doing to her unawares, once she'd been living so long in the jungle that life there had begun to seem right and normal. She'd gone to a trading-post where, for the first time in many months, she caught a glimpse of herself in a full-length mirror. It was somewhat as if Dr. Jekyll, say, had looked into his mirror and there had seen himself as Mr. Hyde. Subconsciously, she'd been keeping the Dr. Jekyll version of herself—the fair young graduate from Radcliffe, lithe and blooming. But now this apparition of a skeletal yellow crome, smitten with fever; whose hair had once been sparkling gold now gone a moldy green. Is this dominant white civilization of our own slated for a similar experience? Are we still as beautiful as we thought we were? Haven't we tarried in the jungle overlong?

If not by Government decree, anyway, let's have this look at ourselves—each in his own way. Which will be, most likely, in fear and trembling—as a necessary prelude to salvation. Our salvation. We, the white sahibs of the British Empire; we, the white Americans—del Norte. Christians all. We keep thinking of that tall black pagan of a New Guinea Islander leading his blind white man out of the jungle. Then, how we've read in some book or other, how all through Africa runs the tradition that both Moses and Solomon—and many another of our great prophets—were black. As if this mattered! In the least! Or would have mattered to the Lord of us Christians if He were here! He said, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—he that despised you despised me. "Brother, are we headed for the clearing?"

What They Say ---

U. C. Pres. Robert Gordon Sproul, speaking to Legislature: "We don't know from day to day what kind of university we will have next year, but I plead with you to maintain California's tremendous investment in buildings, equipment and faculty which has made U. C. one of the great universities of the world."

Dr. J. C. Geiger, S. F. Public Health Officer: "Rationing is going to make a lot of women more conscious of girth control."

The bread-slicing fiasco, in itself, was of little importance. American housewives would have gladly sliced their bread for the duration, if any saving of time or materials had been accomplished by it. But this minor comedy of errors is illustrative of an off-again, on-again trend in government directives which unfortunately applies to many more serious matters as well, and which badly needs correcting.

Eastern hard liquor tycoons, have secretly acquired ownership and control of more than half of California's famous wineries! Reason: The government, due to war needs, has clamped down with a heavy hand on the manufacture of whiskey and gin—and the distillers hope to lengthen out their dwindling stocks by diverting wineries into the production of brandy on a wholesale scale. Watch for the ads; soon they'll read: "It's patriotic to drink brandy."

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., a Democrat like his celebrated dad, will be another trial horse in next year's race for U. S. Senator in California, according to the grapevine. Mr. Bryan lives in L. A.

For a generation, the backbone of America's economy has been the automobile, which sold more dollars worth of output than any other—and bought materials from so many industries as to give support to the entire industrial structure. Its peak pre-war sales volume was about $4,000,000,000. Now the industry, like most others, is at war, and its annual production rate is about $7,000,000,000. Further increase of production is expected throughout this year, but at a slower rate and it is believed that the industry will settle down near this figure. Aircraft production this year will run about $12,000,000,000. In both cases, the huge volume is, of course, on

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

If American boys now fighting the Jap in the South Pacific had been set down in the jungles armed only with courage, they would not have progressed past the beaches. Courage, it has been remarked, is not enough to win a war.

Yet, after more than a year of combat, production of war weapons is trailing far behind known needs. The answer is sought frenziedly by government agencies often confused, generally indecisive and increasingly stupid. The answer is variously found in "absenteeism" of war workers, in fomenting of jurisdictional strikes by labor leaders, in bad housing, "black markets" in food distribution and in downright lack of understanding by the average citizen of the seriousness of the situation.

Actually, the average citizen by now has a son in the service, and he understands pretty thoroughly. He has the answer in his heart—and in his hands. He still has a long way to go on the road to self-denial, hard work and war-gear living before he will approach the value to his country of any Axis citizen to his. But he is willing enough, and waits mainly to be told how and where. He knows why.

He is finally producing aircraft in quantity and quality almost sufficient to fulfill lendlease as well as American battle requirements. Ship production is quite another matter. Our battle against Axis submarines is still a losing battle. Most promising development is the new light escort vessel built along the lines proposed last year by a Californian, Justus Craemer, Orange County publisher, starting navy leaders into action. That ship, produced quickly and in quantity may win the transport war for America.

Evidence of Britain's regard for what can and must be done is Envoy H. Beresford Butler's declaration, "Pacific Coast shipbuilding is the most important single factor in the Allied war effort. There can never be enough merchant or escort vessels. It is the only way to win." With the huge problems in mind, the words of Martin Trepow, spoken at Chateau Thierry in 1918, might well be the guide and inspiration of every American in 1943.

"America must win this war. Therefore, I will work; I will save; I will sacrifice I will endure. I will fight cheerfully and do my utmost, as if the issue of the whole struggle depended on me alone."

The bread-slicing fiasco, in itself, was of little importance. American housewives would have gladly sliced their bread for the duration, if any saving of time or materials had been accomplished by it. But this minor comedy of errors is illustrative of an off-again, on-again trend in government directives which unfortunately applies to many more serious matters as well, and which badly needs correcting.

Ninety cents for a gallon of gasoline. That's the prevailing price charged motorists in Turkey and tops the list of retail gasoline prices for regular grade gasoline gathered in a recent survey. Next highest price was the 67½ cents per gallon fee charged in Sweden. Other prices reported follow: San Salvador, El Salvador, 46 cents; Bombay, India, 46.5; Delhi, India, 55.5; Cairo, Egypt, 33.3; and Bahia, Brazil 33.3.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SIERRA MADRE DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That Section 26 of Ordinance No. 343 of the City of Sierra Madre, entitled: "All Ordinance of the City of Sierra Madre regulating traffic upon the public streets and repealing all Ordinances inconsistent herewith," adopted March 25, 1931, be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 26: STANDING OR PARKING CLOSE TO CURB: The operator of a vehicle shall not stop, stand or park such vehicle upon any roadway in said City of Sierra Madre other than parallel with the curb and with the two right-hand wheels of the vehicle within one foot of the regularly established curb line of such roadway, except that upon those roadways which have been marked for angle parking, as hereinafter provided in this Section, vehicles shall be parked at the angle to the curb indicated by such marks.

The Chief of Police is hereby authorized to determine upon what streets angle parking shall be permitted and to indicate such places by the painting of white lines upon the surface of the roadway to indicate the proper angle for parking, provided that such lines shall not be placed upon, nor shall angle parking be permitted upon, any street where such parking would diminish the width of the roadway available for travel to less than twenty feet, nor upon any street which is a continuation of or part of a county trunk line highway or a state highway unless a clear width of forty (40) feet is left for the movement of vehicles when angle parking is permitted, provided however, that whenever storm or flood waters are flowing in any gutter of such roadway, and the angle parking of any such vehicle, as hereinabove provided, in the opinion of the Chief of Police, is likely to cause such storm or flood waters to overflow the sidewalk area adjacent to any such curb, said Chief of Police is hereby authorized to place or cause to be placed upon any such roadway or any portion thereof, an emergency parking sign or signs prohibiting angle parking thereon other than as next hereinafter provided whereupon it shall be unlawful for the operator of any such vehicle to stop, stand or park such vehicle upon any such roadway, or any portion thereof, in such manner that any wheel of such vehicle shall extend over and beyond a line parallel to and distant not less than two feet from the curb in front of which such vehicle is stopped, stood or parked.

The Chief of Police is hereby authorized to prohibit the parking of vehicles, provided appropriate signs are placed and maintained to give notice thereof, on one side of a street in any block where angle parking is permitted on the opposite side of the street in such block, or any street, the width of which between curbs is twenty-four (24) feet, or less, or temporarily on both sides of any street.

SECTION 2: This Ordinance is urgently required for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the specific reason that this Or-

FIRE FLAMES

After rising from the bottom of the ladder to an opportunity to lead the bowling league, Krinke's bowling firemen had a bad evening in the final series of games last Wednesday. With Krinke and Liscombe running up big scores, the less skillful members fell away below their regular averages, resulting in the team being third when the series ended. With no complaints for gripes, Krinke showed good sportsmanship when he said, "we did well at that".

With the regular drill night coming up this Friday, and with plenty of water available, it would not be a surprise to see the firemen washing more dirt from the streets. This allows the fellows to do the town a good turn and at the same time get in some practice with the hose.

When the present growth of weeds and wild oats turn dry, we will have to be extra cautious. Many lots will be changed to Victory Gardens and this will aid greatly in fire prevention.

The Southern California Edison Company proudly salutes Southern California's double duty war workers—the men and women of the Aircraft Warning Service.

In fair weather and foul, each minute of every hour of the day and night, these loyal civilian volunteers have manned their observation posts. Many of them are engaged in vital war production work on farm or in factory, and give a part of each day or night to this important task of constantly scanning the skies for unfriendly planes. They are the double duty war workers—serving their country well!

Since 1:45 p.m., December 7, 1941

An aircraft warning post near Saugus is manned entirely by Edison people. Organized for the war maneuvers planned for December, 1941, the post was activated with the news of the attack on Pearl Harbor. The post has been cited for meritorious service by the United States Army Air Forces, Fourth Fighter Command. Edison is proud of its double duty war workers.
